Faith Formation 2018-2019

While visiting my parents, I got to spend some time with my brother and his three children. As we put all our children to bed (all 5 kids plus my brother and I were all in the same room) I got to eavesdrop on their bed-time ritual. Even though we were up way too late

(we watched “Dr. Strange” which kept us up past everybody’s bed-time including mine) my brother still kept the ritual. They sang a couple hymns and prayed the Lord’s Prayer. But what stands out to me the most is that they all did it.

The littlest one who still sucks her thumb and sleeps in a pull-up... and the oldest one who will be in 5th grade. They affirmed that “Mommy & Daddy love you and God loves you the most.” It was really beautiful.

Faith Formation begins in worship which is central to a life of faith. And faith formation is happening all the time. Children are learning from their parents what it looks like to walk in faith (or not). Teens are learning from their parents and also their peers about how to live it out (or not).

And adults, too, are figuring out how to make faith a priority when they’re already feeling like they’re over committed and under-rested. This is why we offer ways to connect with Christ and one another to grow deeper together. Sometimes we do this with peers and sometimes we do this Cross Generationally (Cross+Gen). Worship is always Cross+Gen which adds to a rich and full experience of the Body of Christ.

It is the fall and I wanted to show you how you can participate in your Faith Formation on either Sundays, Wednesdays or both. Sunday mornings starting on September 9th, we offer Faith Formation for Adults with Pastor Tim at 8:30am downstairs in the Moses Room. At that same time we offer Sunday School for children 4K – 2 in the Fellowship Hall. On Wednesday nights (Starting September 5th) we offer worship & Faith Formation for All Ages with monthly Cross+Gen Events. The idea is

Houston Follow-Up: An Interview with Emma Hjelle

Once a year the high school youth are given the opportunity to travel with their peers to experience the love of God in a new environment outside of the walls of Trinity Lutheran Church. This year the youth had the opportunity to travel to Houston to attend the ELCA's National Youth Gathering where they worshiped and served with 31,000 other young Christians.

One such youth that attended with Pastor Kari was Emma Hjelle. Emma was kind enough to answer a few questions about what they did in Houston and share some of her own thoughts about the gathering.

Christine Blakeslee: All the youth at the Gathering participated in some sort of Service event; what was the project that you were assigned to? What was your favorite part of this service project?

Emma Hjelle: The service project that our group was assigned to was participating in the "Red Sand Project" which is a movement against human trafficking. For this project we spread red colored sand in sidewalk cracks at the University of Houston campus. I appreciated learning about the realities of human trafficking in the United States, and around the world.

CB: Would you say this whole experience changed the way you live out your faith? Did it happen in a way that you were expecting, or not?

EH: I would not say that this trip changed the way I live out my faith but it did perhaps reestablish my tolerance for unconventional people and walks of life.

CB: What would you say was the one thing you learned, about yourself or about God, that you will take away from this whole experience?

EH: I learned that God's grace changes everything.

CB: If there was anything you could have changed about this trip (other than the long return home) what would it have been? Why?

EH: If I could have redesigned the trip I would have allowed our group more time to be away from the conference and perhaps see the city a little bit. Being at the conference centers day after day was draining.

CB: Given the opportunity, would you ever go to another National Youth Gathering again?

EH: This was a wonderful opportunity but I would probably not want to go to another youth gathering.

that whether we are engaging with our peer group or engaging across the generations we are all becoming active and engaged followers of Christ.

Its an exciting time to be the Church together.

From the Council President

Greetings Brothers and Sisters.

In preparing the budget for the new fiscal year that starts September 1st, we are proposing something that we believe is essential to Trinity's continued growth and development. Something that is honestly long over due.

We are proposing that Pastor Kari's status be changed from 3/4 time to FULL time! The reality that we are now a program sized church, with very different needs than a pastoral sized church, and the demands on staff (staff does not include secretaries or janitors) to minister to a growing congregation are great. Moving Pastor Kari to full time is one of the important steps we will need to take as we prepare to build our staff for growth.

In our Visioning and Planning process of a year ago, one of the recommendations was to evaluate this option. We looked closely at our ministry needs and Pastor Kari's opinion was sought. We believe this is the right step for the future. This doesn't mean we going just heap more jobs on her. We are going to work with her so all her skills and Talents are used productively and that we don't set unrealistic expectations.

As you look at our proposed 2018-19 budget you'll see that this proposal has a significant financial impact. We don't take this fact lightly. Harvey Mathisen will be holding 4 budget forums with specific details and we will have council members there to answer questions as well. These forums will be following worship services September 9 and 16 (Sundays) September 12 and 19 (Wednesdays). We are also preparing a stewardship campaign for the fall.

God has blessed us with an incredible pastoral team and that blessing is reflected in lives and passion of this amazing congregation. Praise be to God!

Welcome to Our New Administrative Assistant

We welcome Pam Karoliussen to our office staff at Trinity Lutheran. Pam will be our new Administrative Assistant. She will be here during office hours Monday thru Friday 8:00am to Noon.

Pam has lived in the Rhineland area for many years and has worked at the hospital coordinating volunteers. So she may be a familiar face to some of you.

You can contact Pam at the church office 715-362-4258 or by email:

tlcsecretary@cometotrinity.com
Please stop by the church office and introduce yourself and help Pam connect names to faces.

A big thank you to Ellen Leick who has provided much needed office support during the interim and to Carol Alderton who filled in to do many of the office tasks that needed to get done. It has been much appreciated.

First We Give of Ourselves

is the theme for this year's Stewardship Drive. The theme verse is found in 2 Corinthians 8:5. The Apostle Paul in describing the generosity of the Macedonian Christians says: "...and this, not merely as we expected, they gave themselves first to the Lord..."

We will begin our Stewardship Drive on Sunday September 30 and Wednesday October 3. In our worship services we will be studying 2 Corinthians 8-9. The sermons and Bible Studies will help us grow in our understanding of what it means to be centered in the abundance of God's generosity.

We look forward to journeying together as we carry out our mission to serve Jesus Christ.

Stewardship 101: Why Do You Give To The Church?

I recently led two workshops about narrative budgeting in the Northeastern Pennsylvania Synod of the ELCA. During one of the workshops, I asked participants to answer the question: Why give to the church? One woman responded, “Why not give to the church? I don’t understand why people don’t give to the church.” And I probed her, “But, why should they?” The floodgates opened. She said with a smile, “Well, my church is like a second family to me. I take care of my first house, so I also take care of my second home — the church.” At the root of her giving was this deep sense of community she felt called to support. Immediately, when she said the church was “her second family,” I wanted to hear more. I wanted to hear the stories behind her statement.

The best way to share the “why” with young adults — and all our community, for that matter — is through stories that demonstrate how the church is making a difference in your community. Stewardship is living by faith, best told through stories of hope. We are eager to hear about your traditions and liturgy, but we are more eager to hear about how lives are being transformed in and through your congregation. According to the 2013 Millennial Impact report, the top two reasons millennials (young adults born between 1981 and 2000) give to an organization is because they’re inspired and understand how their gift makes an impact. A subsequent 2015 report also suggests that millennials are most likely to give to organizations willing to engage with them beyond soliciting a donation. Transformational stories not only inspire, but they can help to illustrate how gifts to the congregation lead to opportunities for deeper engagement and greater reach.

So, how do you integrate these stories of hope and transformation into your stewardship ministry? One of the best ways to do this is by using a narrative budget, or ministry plan, in addition to a line item budget. A narrative budget connects the money to the mission and ministry of the congregation using a story or narrative style. It connects each dollar spent to a specific element of the congregation’s mission and ministry rather than particular programs or staff.

It has been said that young adults prefer to give to a specific project or inspiring cause. People often ask me, “Well, the specific projects are all well and good, but how do you get young adults to support the general fund of the church? How do you get them to fund the electricity bill?” Great question! My answer: “Why are the lights on? What is going on in your congregation when the lights are on?” The lights are on Thursday evening because the choir is practicing, they are on Sunday morning for worship, they are on Saturday morning as we prepare meals for “Meals on Wheels,” and the list goes on. What is God up to in your congregation when the lights are on? These are the stories that connect money to ministry in a narrative budget.

The greatest thing about this storytelling approach to “why church?” is that it inspires people of all ages, not just young adults. Making your congregation a place where the “why” is taken seriously and where stories of hope and transformation are freely shared will enliven and empower your community. It will help members connect their financial support to the ministry of the congregation, not just numbers in the budget.

Check out the IOC Table

The IOC Table (Information and Opportunity Center) is located in the gathering area outside the worship space. On Sunday morning it is staffed so that someone will be there to answer questions or help you sign up. Please stop by the IOC Table to check out upcoming events.

Those Serving in Worship

A quarterly schedule of Those Serving in Worship is sent home to all who help out with various worship assistant roles. These include readers, ushers, power point operators, communion helpers, Trinity Connection Café, IOC Table. These quarterly schedules are either sent via email or a printed copy is mailed to individuals who are serving based upon their preference for receiving the schedule. We hope that we have gotten your preference and that you are getting the schedule. Please let us know if we need to make an adjustment.

You can also find a copy of the three month schedule at the IOC Table for review. The names of those serving each week will also be printed in the Sunday bulletin. And we are also adding the names of those serving the following week to the Sunday bulletin.

For those who receive information via email, a reminder email is sent the week prior to the Sunday they are serving.

To help us coordinate Those Serving in Worship Carole Hansen is helping us by setting the quarterly schedule. One thing we have noticed is that our volunteers need to make changes to the schedule. This happens on a very regular basis. So here are a few reminders that will help us stay on top of the changes being made. First, we ask that individuals find their own substitute when they can not be there on a day they are scheduled to serve. Second, please contact the church office to let us know who is serving for you. This helps us keep the schedule we post up-to-date. Finally, thank you for serving, you are a blessing to the ministry we are doing in Jesus name. Please contact Carole Hansen or the church office if you have questions.
